We hereby apply to become or to continue, as the case may be, a Participant of The Central Depository and Settlement Co. Ltd. (“CDS”) in the category of:

Financial Institution _____ Government Institution _____ Foreign Institution _____ to use the following services:

Settlement Services _____ Depository Services _____

We acknowledge that each Participant executes this standard form participant application in duplicate originals (“Participant Application”) and we agree as follows.

1. CDS Agreement. Upon the acceptance and signature by CDS of our Participation Application, it constitutes, together with all Participation Applications accepted by CDS, the rules (“Rules”), procedures (“Procedures”) and user manuals (“Manuals”) adopted and amended in the future by CDS pursuant to the Rules, an effective agreement (“CDS Agreement”).

2. Master Agreement. The CDS Agreement is entered into as a single master agreement constituting contractual obligations between the undersigned and all Participants, and between CDS and every one of its Participants, including us and the respective successors, permitted assignees and lawful representatives of each and all.

Every transaction of Participants and of CDS and anything done pursuant to the CDS Agreement is entered into in reliance on the fact that the CDS Agreement forms a single master agreement among Participants, and between Participants and CDS, all of whom would not otherwise transact with one another.

3. Current Account. As each individual Transaction of Participant is entered into by Participant, it is blended into the respective current account maintained by CDS for Participant whereby every one of its Transaction is merged with its previous Transaction and these Transactions are thereby automatically extinguished and replaced by new obligations and rights of Participant forming part of its single new Transaction.

4. Positions and Funds Netting. Where the Participant and CDS are parties to two or more transactions in relation to Eligible Securities, they will, in effecting settlement of their obligations to deliver securities and make payment of funds, be entitled to net off their respective positions in relation to securities of the same type and class and their accounts to each other in relation to payment of funds so as to replace their separate obligations to deliver securities or effect payment in relation to each individual transaction by a single obligation on the party having the net debit position in relation to securities of the same type and class to deliver securities of that net amount and on the party having a net debit account in relation to funds to effect payments of that debit amount.

5. Review of CDS Agreement. We acknowledge that we have reviewed and have in our possession the Participation Application, Rules, Procedures and Manual, as are in effect as of the date hereof. We are sufficiently familiar therewith to understand the representations, obligations, rights, responsibilities, liabilities, exclusions and allocations thereof contained in the CDS Agreement, and we agree to their application and enforcement to and by all Participants and CDS for the purposes of CDS business and services.

6. Survival. Notwithstanding our suspension, termination or withdrawal as a Participant, we remain bound by the CDS Agreement as to all matters and transactions occurring when we were a Participant and thereafter occurring with or through CDS.

7. Assignment. We cannot assign any rights and obligations under the CDS Agreement without the prior written consent of CDS. CDS may assign all or part of its rights and obligations under the CDS Agreement to any person, so long as CDS remains responsible, and subject to the CDS Act.

8. Compliance. We acknowledge that, in providing its services to Participants, CDS may be subject to certain domestic and foreign laws, rules, regulations and treaties, and to agreements entered into, instruments and declarations made and acts done by CDS from time to time. We agree to comply therewith upon being informed by CDS of the relevant provisions thereof.

9. Severability. Any provision of the CDS Agreement that is prohibited, unenforceable or invalid shall be ineffective and deemed severed from the CDS Agreement without affecting the enforceability of the remaining provisions thereof.

10. Interpretation. The division of the CDS Agreement into sections and subsections, and the insertion of headings is for convenient reference only and does not affect its interpretation thereof. Words importing the singular number includes the plural and vice versa and a word importing a gender includes all genders. Words or phrases with established statutory or jurisprudential meanings which are not otherwise expressly defined in the Rules shall be used in accordance with such meanings.

11. Priority. In case of any conflict between the Participation Application and the Rules, Procedures or Manual, the Participation Application prevails and between the Rules and the Procedures or Manual, the Rules prevail.

12. Governing Law. The CDS Agreement is construed and governed by the laws of Mauritius and treaties applicable therein, without regard to the conflict of laws provisions thereof.

13. Arbitration. Except where an appeal procedure is provided by the Rules, any controversy or claim arising out of or related to the CDS Agreement is settled in Port-Louis, Mauritius, by referral to an arbitrator mutually acceptable to CDS and Participant.

Where the parties to the CDS Agreement fail to agree within thirty (30) days to the appointment of an Arbitrator, a Judge in Chambers, on the application of either party, appoints the Arbitrator. The decision of the Judge in Chambers is final and binding. The appointment of the Arbitrator and proceeding of Arbitration is conducted in accordance with the Code of Civil Procedure in force in Mauritius. Each party bears the cost of arbitration in the proportion decided by the Arbitrator. The arbitral award is final, conclusive and binding on the parties.

The parties are entitled to bring the matter to the courts of Mauritius for enforcement of either the arbitral award or enforcement of the decision of the Arbitrator when such decision is determined to be final and conclusive.

Persons other than those which are parties hereto may, on the motion of either or any such other person or of a party hereto, become a party to or be brought into such arbitration provided any award in such arbitration is enforceable as against such other person.

2.2.3 Deferral. The Board of Directors defers its approval of a Participation Application with respect to anyone of the Services until such time as CDS has adequate personnel, facilities, data processing capacity or such operational capability to provide its services to additional Participants without impairing its ability to service existing Participants, to assure the prompt and efficient settlement of Transactions, to safeguard the funds and Eligible Securities, and to carry out its functions in the normal course of business.

However, applicants whose applications are deferred pursuant to this Rule are approved as promptly as the capabilities of CDS permit in the order in which their Participation Applications were filed with CDS.

2.2.4 Approval. Upon recommendation of the Business Conduct Committee, the Board of Directors can approve, with respect to any one of the Services applied for, a Participation Application for signature by CDS and delivery to the Applicant who then becomes a Participant. 2.3.3 Termination. When sufficient or adequate cause exists and upon recommendation of the Business Conduct Committee, the Board of Directors may terminate the right of a Participant to use any Service. At least five days before the meeting at which termination is to be considered, the Participant is given notice of the time and place of the meeting and the cause for termination. The Board of Directors gives the Participant the opportunity to be heard by the Board of Directors at that meeting.

2.3.4 Outstanding Items. CDS determines what actions are taken with respect to Transactions of a suspended or terminated Participant that have not settled or that are not completed. 2.3.9 Civil and Criminal Liability. The suspension, termination or withdrawal of Participant does not prejudice the right of CDS and Participants to take civil or criminal action against the suspended, terminated or withdrawn Participant.

Rule 2.4 Complaints and Appeals Procedure

2.4.1 Complaint to the Business Conduct Committee. A Participant who is adversely affected by a decision taken by CDS management under this Rule may file a complaint with the Business Conduct Committee. Within twenty Business Days from the date Business Conduct Committee is notified, but not earlier than ten Business Days, unless Participant consents to a shorter delay, the Business Conduct Committee gives Participant the opportunity to appear before and to be heard by the Business Conduct Committee.

The Business Conduct Committee is not bound by the technical rules of evidence in the conduct of the hearing of the complaint and deliberation of the decision. All decisions reached by the Business Conduct Committee must be fully substantiated.

(Amended 11/4/08)

After that period, Participant is deemed to have confirmed the accuracy, completeness and correctness of such reports.

3.8.3 Correction. CDS may correct or adjust any entry in any report or record maintained by CDS and forthwith notify the Participant concerned, including any manifest error after the confirmation period, provided that the delay does not prejudice CDS or any Participant. Participant conforms its records to those of CDS which prevail over Participants records in case of any discrepancy.

3.8.4 Best Evidence. The reports and records of CDS prevail over Participants' internal records and constitute, with respect to any and all Transactions, the best evidence of such Transactions, without prejudice to the right of Participants' clients to prove their ultimate rights, title and entitlements.

3.8.5 Retention. Subject to the relevant legislations, CDS determines and sets forth in the Procedures the period for the retention by CDS and Participant of Service records, after which period such records can be discarded or destroyed. CDS is not obligated to retain any of its Service records for longer than 10 years after the date on which entry was made on such records.

3.10.3 Insurance. CDS takes reasonable steps to obtain and maintain one or more policies of insurance for such amounts and coverage as CDS may reasonably determine in the best interests of CDS and Participants, and provided such insurance is available at a reasonable cost. 4.2.6 Payment of Settled Transfers. All net funds payment obligations arising on Settlement date are effected and settled through the Settlement Bank of each Participant at the end of the Business Day on Settlement date through the crediting and debiting by the Settlement Bank of the respective Settlement Bank Account of the Participants based on the net position of each Participant as a result of Settlement.

of such Eligible Securities than is fair and reasonable in view of the indebtedness of such client. To determine what is fair and reasonable, Participant maintains a separate list identifying the client and the Eligible Securities loaned.

4.3.3 Borrowing Procedure. A Participant wishing to borrow Eligible Securities contacts the Participant prepared to make such loan directly and enters into an agreement determined entirely by the parties thereto, without the intervention of CDS.

When Eligible Securities held for a client are loaned, the management of the money deposited shall be agreed upon between the lender Participant and its client, without the intervention of CDS and shall not be the responsibility of CDS. (Amended 11/4/08)

4.3.5 Marking to market. The lender Participant may, at any time on any clearing day, require the borrower Participant to furnish margin equivalent to the amount by which the then current market price exceeds the sum of money on deposit with the lender Participant, and the borrower Participant may, by like requisition, require the lender Participant to refund such money as is necessary to reduce the amount of deposit for the loan to such current market price.

4.3.6 Repayment. The borrower Participant shall return the Eligible Securities loaned and the lender Participant shall return the money deposited, on the repayment date specified in the agreement between the two Participants or such other date that may be subsequently agreed upon between the two Participants. If the repayment of the loan is not completed by the return of the securities and money deposited, the loan may be closed out and fines may be imposed on the defaulting Participant as set forth in the Procedures. (Amended 11/4/08)

4.3.7 Lender's right to dividend. During the continuance of the loan, dividends, rights and other entitlements pertaining to the Eligible Securities remain with the lender Participant. Claims may be requisitioned from the borrower Participant through the Settlement Service and upon receipt of the claim item deliver the same or the proceeds thereof to the lender Participant.

RULE 5 Depository Service

Rule 5.1 Service Description

5.1.1 Depository. The Depository Service is a Service of a system for the central handling of securities whereby CDS acts as a custodian of Eligible Securities where all Eligible Securities of a particular class or series of any Issuer deposited within the system are treated as fungible and may be transferred, loaned, pledged or subject to other operations, all by entries in the records of CDS without physical delivery of Eligible Securities certificates, or otherwise to permit or facilitate the settlement of Transactions without physical delivery of Eligible Securities certificates.

5.1.2 Securities Accounts. To use the Depository Service, Participant opens and maintains with CDS one or more Securities Accounts for the recording of the deposit or withdrawal of securities and for dealing in such securities. These accounts may comprise a Participant Securities Account and a Client Securities Account to comply with segregation requirements for client Eligible Securities.

5.1.3 Disclosure. Participant when opening a client Securities Account should ensure that Participant has particulars of the client's identity.

5.1.4 Accounts. A Client Securities Account and a Participant Securities Account may, in accordance with the Procedures and the Manual, record Eligible Securities in:

- a) a Collateral Account, for Eligible Securities pledged to Participant and held by CDS subject to Participant's instructions only;
- b) a Pledge Account, for Eligible Securities pledged by one Participant or Account holder to another Participant or Account holder and held by CDS for and subject only to the instructions of that Participant;
- c) a General Account, for Eligible Securities available and unencumbered held by Participant or by the holder of a Securities Account.

5.1.5 Operations. The Depository Service and its facilities are extended by CDS and made available to Participants and clients who can maintain Securities Accounts only under the responsibility of Participants and solely upon instructions received from Participants and determined to be in accordance with the CDS Agreement.

Any instruction to change, update or make a correction to a Securities Account of a client is given to CDS by a Participant in accordance with the Procedures.

5.1.6 Failure. Where CDS is unable to effect a transfer, pledge, withdrawal of Eligible Securities or other Transaction, on its records because of an extraordinary event, CDS is not liable to compensate any person who incurs a loss as a result of a delay in effecting the transfer, pledge, withdrawal or other Transaction to the extent that it proves that it took reasonable corrective action.

5.1.7 Buy-Ins. Where there is not a sufficient quantity of Eligible Securities in a Securities Account to fulfill the delivery requirements of a Settlement or Transaction, CDS may debit the Funds Account of the Securities Account holder's Participant, as security, with an amount equal to the value of such Eligible Securities plus any amount determined by CDS to protect CDS, Participants and the integrity of the Depository Service. Where the Securities Account holder fails to deliver the required Eligible Securities in accordance with the Procedures, CDS may buy a sufficient quantity of said Eligible Securities required to fulfill the delivery requirements of the Settlement or Transaction. The purchase price and related costs and surcharges are an amount owing from the Securities Account holder's Participant to CDS. CDS will notify the FSC of any Buy-In procedure that is initiated.

Notwithstanding the above provision, where failure to deliver the required Eligible Securities results from the non-confirmation of a trade by a Custodian Bank, CDS may either allow the Custodian Bank to confirm the sale Transaction after the Settlement Date or allow the Participant that effected the sale Transaction to contract a securities loan in order to settle the sale Transaction. Buy-in procedures will be aborted, provided that the confirmation from the Custodian Bank or the reporting of the loan transaction by the Participant is submitted to the CDS before the buy-in session takes place as set forth in the procedures. (Amended 17/9/2001, 11/4/08)

Rule 5.2 Deposit and Transfer

5.2.1 Procedure. Eligible Securities are deposited and transferred in the Depository Service in accordance with the Procedures and Manual.

5.2.2 Credit. Upon confirmation of the authenticity of the deposited security certificates by the registry of the Issuer the CDS credits the Eligible Securities to the Securities Account in accordance with Participant's instructions.

Such confirmation shall be given by the registry of the Issuer within five business days of the deposit. (Amended: 10/2/99)

Rule 5.3 Pledge

5.3.1 Pledgor and Pledgee. A pledge of Eligible Securities by a Participant or its client is effected by the pledgor Participant reporting, and the pledgee Participant confirming, through the Settlement Services, the pledge Transaction for the quantity or face value of Eligible Securities to be pledged to the pledgee Participant or its client.

5.3.2 Pledge Accounts. Eligible Securities pledged through the Settlement Service are credited to the pledgee's Collateral Account and recorded in the pledgor's Pledge Account, and are dealt with strictly and exclusively in accordance with the instructions of the pledgee Participant, without regard to the pledgor Participant. CDS has no obligation to verify the terms of the pledge or compliance therewith by either Participant or non-Participant parties to a pledge.

5.3.3 Unavailable Position. Eligible Securities that are pledged in accordance with the Rules, Procedures and Manual are no longer eligible for Settlement of other Transactions unless first released by the pledgee Participant.

5.3.4 Entitlements. All proceeds and entitlements of Eligible Securities under pledge in a Pledge Account pertain and belong to the pledgor, without prejudice to the pledgor to constitute a pledge of such proceeds and entitlements.

5.3.5 Foreclosure. In the event a Participant or non-Participant pledgor defaults on the principal obligation that is the subject of a pledge, the pledgee Participant instructs CDS, who complies, to transfer to the pledgee Participant those Eligible Securities in the pledgor Participant's Pledge Account to the Securities Account of the pledgee Participant or its client. CDS notifies the pledgor forthwith.

5.3.6 Release. Promptly after the termination of the pledge for reason of payment and performance of the principal obligation or other reason or consideration, the pledgee Participant enters the appropriate instruction to CDS to release the Eligible Securities from the pledgor's Pledge Account and record them in the pledgor's Securities Account.

5.3.7 Obligation of CDS. When a pledgor fails to perform the principal obligation for which the pledge was created or continued, CDS has the authority from the pledgor Participant to maintain the securities in the pledgee's Collateral Account until instructed to release the Eligible Securities under pledge by the pledgee Participant, without any liability of CDS.

Rule 5.4 Withdrawal

5.4.1 Procedure. Eligible Securities are withdrawn from Securities Accounts in accordance with the Procedures and Manual.

5.4.2 Debit. Upon verifying that the withdrawal of Eligible Securities is valid, CDS debits the Eligible Securities from the Securities Account in accordance with Participant's instructions and those Eligible Securities withdrawn are no longer eligible for Transactions.

5.4.3 Retirement. Eligible Securities that expire, are redeemed or canceled are retired by CDS from the Depository Service and the Securities Accounts, unless CDS is instructed otherwise by Participant.

Rule 5.5 Entitlements

5.5.1 List of Account Holders. On receipt of a demand from an Issuer or its agent for a list of the names of Participants and non-Participants for whom CDS holds Eligible Securities of a class issued by the Issuer in any Securities Account, CDS provides the Issuer or its agent with a list setting out

(a) the name and address of, and

(b) the number or amount of Eligible Securities of the class held for each such Participant and non-Participants made up as of the date specified in the demand of the Issuer or its agent.

5.5.2 Examination. After submitting a request to CDS, a holder of a Securities Account with Eligible Securities of an Issuer may during a Business Day examine a list in intelligible form of the records of CDS that relate to such Eligible Securities of the Issuer held by it made up as of a specific date at a reasonable time after submission of the request and may also make extracts therefrom, and any other person may do so upon fulfilling the requirements set forth in the Procedures.

5.5.3 Stock Dividend. All dividends and distributions in the form of Eligible Securities are distributed through the Depository Service. The amount of dividends in the form of Eligible Securities is determined by the Issuer thereof and credited to Securities Accounts in accordance with the Issuer's instructions.

5.5.4 Other Corporate Action. CDS may from time to time provide supplemental services for other types of corporate actions through the Depository Service in accordance with the Procedures.

Rule 5.6 Declarations

5.6.1 Constraints. Participant shall not knowingly permit Transactions in Eligible Securities in the Depository Service to be held in contravention of any applicable charter, by-law, legislation, regulation or order.

5.6.2 Declarations. Participant provides or causes to provide, as and when required, a declaration containing such information with respect to any Eligible Security in a Security Account to comply with:

- a) a lawful request of the Issuer of the Eligible Security made to comply or facilitate compliance with any legislation, rule, regulation, order of a court or administrative or regulatory body, by-law or provision to which the Issuer is subject; or
- b) with any legislation, regulation, or order of a court or administrative or regulatory body.

RULE 6 Participant Indemnity

Rule 6.1 Pledge To secure payments due or the performance of any obligation of Participant, Participant pledges to CDS, as collateral for its obligations under the CDS Agreement:

- a) all Participant contributions made by Participant to any guarantee fund established in accordance with the Rules;
- b) all Eligible Securities of Participant; and
- c) All Eligible Securities in the Securities Accounts under its management for which final and irrevocable payment is not made by the Participant. (Amended: 10/3/97)

The rights of CDS as pledgee over the assets pledged hereunder is subject to Participant's use of any Service being suspended, terminated or withdrawn.

Rule 6.2 Guarantee Fund

6.2.1 Custodian Banks. For the purposes of Rule 6.2, the term Participant excludes Custodian Banks and Investment Dealers (Government of Mauritius and Bank of Mauritius Securities Segment). (Amended: 10/3/97, 10/06/2013)

6.2.2 Guarantee Fund. The Board of Directors shall establish or operate a guarantee fund to satisfy a loss sustained by CDS caused by Participant's failure to satisfy its obligations. The Board of Directors determines the calculation formula for and the acceptable forms of contributions to the fund, the circumstances under which contributions made in the form of Eligible Securities are devalued, their refund, their custody and their utilization by CDS as set forth in the Procedures.

6.2.3 The owner of the fund. Although the fund is administered by CDS in accordance with CDS Rules it is owned by the Participants and the CDS as contributors to the fund. (Amended: 1/7/98)

6.2.3.1 Participant may withdraw capital contribution. A Participant's initial contribution to the fund and any contribution required to be made by a Participant following draw down is included in the capital of that Participant. When a Participant withdraws from CDS, its unused contribution to the fund shall be returned to the Participant but no other part of the fund (including cash contributions made by the CDS based on transactions effected by the Participant) shall be repayable to the Participant. (Amended: 1/7/98)

6.2.4 Management of the fund. The fund is managed in accordance with an investment policy decided by the Business Conduct Committee.

6.2.5 Participant Liability. Upon default by Participant in its obligations, CDS:

- a) applies the defaulting Participant's contributions to satisfy such obligations;
- b) requires the defaulting Participant to immediately pay the amount by which the loss exceeds Participant's contribution; and
- c) applies contributions of other Participants on a pro-rata basis to the remaining amount of the loss.

6.2.6 Deficiencies. Whenever an amount is paid out of the guarantee fund contribution of a Participant, whether by pro-rata charge or otherwise, such Participant is liable promptly to make good the deficiency in its deposit resulting from such payment. If the payment is made as a result of a pro-rata charge, a participant is not liable to make good more than an additional 100% of the amount of its current required contribution if:

- a) within five (5) business days following the pro-rata charge, the Participant notifies CDS that it is terminating its participation in CDS;
- b) no Transactions are submitted to CDS after the giving of such notice; and
- c) the participant meets all its outstanding obligations to CDS within the five business days following the date of its termination as a Participant.

Rule 6.2.7 Application of the Guarantee Fund. If any Participant fails to discharge any obligation under the CDS Agreement, or if CDS suffers any loss or expense due to a Participant, then CDS can apply the Participant's contribution to the discharge of such obligation, expense or loss.

If the amount of the undischarged obligation, expense or loss exceeds that amount of the Participant's contribution, and if the Participant fails to pay CDS the amount of the deficiency on demand by CDS, the amount of the deficiency is to be paid out of the guarantee fund and charged pro rata against all other Participants' contributions. A participant who fails to pay the deficiency remains liable to CDS for the full amount of such deficiency until payment thereof.

When a pro rata charge is made against a Participant's contribution to the Guarantee fund, CDS promptly notifies the Participant of the amount of the charge and the reasons therefore.

The amount of any deficiency, obligation, expense or loss is determined by CDS without reference to the possibility of any subsequent recovery in respect thereof, but the net amount of any such recovery is applied in accordance with the Procedures of the CDS.

RULE 7 Clearing and Settlement of Futures Contracts (Added 2/2/2010)

Rule 7.1 Trade Recording and Confirmation

7.1.1 Trades in Futures Contracts executed on the Automated Trading System of the SEM are automatically fed to the system of CDS and are recorded in the Securities Accounts of clients or in the proprietary Securities Account of a Participant if the latter is trading as principal. The Open Position in a Securities Account relating to a Futures Contract is updated immediately after the execution of a Trade allocated to that Securities Account.

7.1.2 Custodian banks are required to confirm Trades that have been allocated to their clients, within 1 hour after the close of trading on the day the Trade is executed. A Trade that is not accepted by a custodian bank shall be allocated to the Investment Dealer that executed the Trade and shall be settled by the latter.

7.1.3 The total number of gross Open Positions in all Securities Accounts relating to a Contract Class shall not exceed any maximum limit specified by the SEM. When the limit is reached, the SEM shall purge all existing orders in the Contract Class from the Order Book.

7.1.4 The total number of gross Open Positions in all Securities Accounts relating to a Contract Class registered with a Participant, shall not exceed any maximum limit specified by the SEM. When the limit is reached, the SEM shall purge all existing orders in the Contract Class placed by the Participant from the Order Book.

7.1.5 The total number of the gross Open Positions in all Securities Accounts of a client relating to a Contract Class, shall not exceed any maximum limit specified by the SEM. When the limit is reached, the Participant shall purge all existing orders in the Contract Class placed by the client from the Order Book.

Rule 7.2 Margin Requirements

7.2.1 No Participant is allowed to clear and settle Transactions in Futures unless it deposits an initial Margin with CDS. The Margin shall be in the form of a cash deposit or an irrevocable Letter of Credit which is exercisable immediately on demand by CDS, or in any other form that is acceptable to CDS. The Margin shall be used by CDS to pay the settlement obligations resulting from the daily marking to market of the Participant's Open Positions in Futures, in the event of a default by the Participant.

7.2.2 The Margin deposited by a Participant allows the Participant to open positions in Futures, for its clients and for its own account, up to a Maximum Allowable Exposure which shall be equal to the amount of the Margin divided by the higher of 7% or, the mean absolute daily value/price change of the Underlying of the Futures Contract plus 3.5 standard deviations. The mean absolute daily value/price change and standard deviation of the Underlying are calculated at the close of trading on each Business Day on a rolling basis for a period covering the last 30 Business Days. The Maximum Allowable Exposure is updated at the same time. If there is more than one Contract Class that is traded on the SEM at any time, the Contract Class whose Underlying has the highest mean absolute daily value/price change plus 3.5 standard deviations, will be used as reference for calculating the Maximum Allowable Exposure.

7.2.3 No Participant is allowed to accept an order from a client to buy or sell Futures unless the latter deposits an initial Margin with the Participant. The Margin to be deposited by the client shall be in the form of a cash deposit or in any other form that is acceptable to the Participant.

7.2.4 The Margin deposited by a client allows the client to hold open positions in Futures up to a Maximum Allowable Exposure as calculated in Rule 7.2.2.

7.2.5 The Exposure of a Securities Account relating to a Futures Contract is equal to the absolute Open Position in that Securities Account multiplied by the last Closing Price of the Futures Contract. If there is no Trade in a Futures Contract on a particular day, then the Exposure of a Securities Account relating to a Futures Contract on that day, shall be equal to the absolute Open Position in that Securities Account multiplied by the Theoretical Price of the Futures Contract on that day. In such a situation, the same Theoretical Price shall be used to calculate the Exposure on the next day till the Closing Price is determined on that day.

7.2.6 The Total Exposure of a Participant is the aggregate of the Exposures of all Securities Accounts relating to Futures registered with the Participant.

7.2.7 The ATS shall not allow any order that can potentially cause the Total Exposure of a Participant to exceed its Maximum Allowable Exposure, into the Order Book. When the Maximum Allowable Exposure of a Participant is exceeded, the ATS shall not allow the Participant to place any new order and the SEM shall forthwith purge all the existing orders of the Participant from the Order Book.

7.2.8 When the Maximum Allowable Exposure of a Participant is exceeded, the Participant shall deposit additional Margin to CDS to cover the excess over the limit and to provide cover for new positions.

7.2.9 The ATS shall not allow any order that can potentially cause the Exposure of a client to exceed its Maximum Allowable Exposure, into the Order Book. When the Maximum Allowable Exposure of a client is exceeded, the ATS shall not accept any new order that is allocated to that client and the Participant shall forthwith purge all existing orders of the client from the Order Book.

7.2.10 A Participant shall not accept an order from a client if the client's Maximum Allowable Exposure is exceeded. When the Maximum Allowable Exposure of a client is exceeded, the client shall deposit additional Margin to its Participant to cover the excess over the limit and to provide cover for any new positions.

Rule 7.3 Marking to Market

7.3.1 Futures are cash settled on a daily basis. The profit or loss on the Open Positions of each client and each Participant is computed by daily marking to market as set out in Rules 7.3.2 to 7.3.7. If the Underlying of a Futures Contract is an index, the price of the Futures Contract is the value of the index in terms of number of index points and one index point is equivalent to one Rupee.

7.3.2 The first marking to the market is conducted on the same day after a position is opened. The profit or loss on this position is computed as the difference between the Trade price and the day's settlement price multiplied by the number of Futures Contracts traded and the Contract Size. The day's settlement price is the Closing Price of the Futures Contract on that day. On the day the position is opened, a client holding a Long Position will make a loss if the day's settlement price is lower than the Trade price while a client holding a Short Position will make a profit in such a situation. A client holding a Long Position will make a profit if the day's settlement price is higher than the Trade price while a client holding a Short Position will make a loss in such a situation.

7.3.3 On trading days other than the day when the position is open and the day when the Futures Contract expires, the profit or loss on an Open Position in each Futures Contract is computed as the difference between the previous day's settlement price, which is the Closing Price of the Futures Contract on the previous day (except if there was no trade in the Futures Contract on the previous day), and the day's settlement price, which is the Closing Price of the Futures Contract on that day (except if there is no trade in the Futures Contract on that day), multiplied by the Open Position. On such trading days, a client holding a Long Position will make a loss if the day's settlement price is lower than the previous day's settlement price while a client holding a Short Position will make a profit in such a situation. A client holding a Long Position will make a profit if the day's settlement price is higher than the previous day's settlement price while a client holding a Short Position will make a loss in such a situation. If there is no trade in a Futures Contract on a particular day, that day's settlement price shall be the Theoretical Price of the Futures Contract on that day.

7.3.4 Where an Open Position is closed by executing an offsetting Trade, the profit or loss is computed as the difference between the Trade price for the close-out and the previous day's settlement price, which is the Closing Price of the Futures Contract on the previous day (except if there was no trade in the Futures Contract on the previous day), multiplied by the number of Futures Contracts traded and the Contract Size. A client who closes a Long Position that was opened before the close-out date will make a loss if the Trade price is lower than the previous day's settlement price while a client who closes an open position will make a loss in such a situation. A client who closes a Long Position that was opened before the close-out date will make a profit if the Trade price is higher than the previous day's settlement price while a client who closes an open position will make a loss in such a situation. If there is no trade in a Futures Contract on a particular day, that day's settlement price shall be the Theoretical Price of the Futures Contract on that day.

7.3.5 Where a position is opened and closed during the same Session, the profit or loss is computed as the difference between the Trade price for the close-out and the Trade price for the opening, multiplied by the number of Futures Contracts traded and the Contract Size. A client who closes a Long Position on the same day that the position was previously opened will make a loss if the Trade price for the close-out is lower than the Trade price for the opening while a client who closes a Short Position on the same day that the position was previously opened will make a profit in such a situation. A client who closes a Long Position on the same day that the position was previously opened will make a profit if the Trade price for the close-out is higher than the Trade price for the opening while a client who closes a Short Position on the same day that the position was previously opened will make a loss in such a situation.

7.3.6 Marking to market on the Expiry Date of the Futures Contract will be as set out in Rules 7.3.2 to 7.3.5 except that the day's settlement price will be the Volume Weighted Average Price of the Underlying Security on that day instead of the Closing Price of the Futures Contract. If the Underlying is an index, the day's settlement price on the Expiry Date (the final settlement price) shall be the closing value of the index calculated using Volume Weighted Average Prices of all the index constituents during the trading Session on the Expiry Date. In case no Transaction takes place in an Underlying Security or in any of the index constituents on the Expiry Date, the Volume Weighted Average Price on the last day on which the Underlying Security or the specific index constituent was traded, will be used.

7.3.7 If there is no Trade in a Futures Contract on a particular day other than the Expiry Date, the settlement price on that day shall be the Theoretical Price of the Futures Contract on that day.

Rule 7.4 Settlement

7.4.1 Profits and losses resulting from the daily marking to market are settled among Participants on a net basis on the next Business Day.

7.4.2 After the marking to market of the Open Positions in all Securities Accounts relating to Futures registered with each Participant at the close of trading on each Business Day, the net settlement obligation of the Participant for Futures Transactions in respect of that Business Day is determined by subtracting the total profits from the total losses. Clearing is done by multilateral netting whereby a single net settlement obligation is determined for each Participant vis-à-vis all of the other Participants.

7.4.3 CDS shall provide a settlement instruction showing the net settlement obligation of each Participant for Futures Transactions in respect of each Business Day, to the Participant and its Settlement Bank by 15:00 Hrs on that Business Day. Transfer of funds among Participants shall take place through their Settlement Banks and the Bank of Mauritius on the next Business Day.

7.4.4 CDS shall provide a settlement instruction showing the amount to be paid and/or received by each Settlement Bank relating to the net settlement obligation of each Participant for Futures Transactions in respect of each Business Day, to the Bank of Mauritius by 10:00 Hrs on the next Business Day.

7.4.5 Each Participant shall provide funds in its account with its Settlement Bank, for the amount of its net settlement obligation for Futures Transactions in respect of each Business day, by 9:30 Hrs on the next Business Day.

7.4.6 Each Participant shall make arrangements with its Settlement Bank for the latter to submit debit instructions to the Bank of Mauritius for the amount of the net settlement obligation of the Participant for Futures Transactions in respect of each Business day, by 10:30 Hrs on the next Business Day.

7.4.7 The Bank of Mauritius shall transfer the funds relating to the net settlement obligation of each Participant for Futures transactions in respect of each Business Day, among the accounts of the Settlement Banks of the respective Participants by 11:30 Hrs on the next Business Day and shall confirm the transfer of funds to CDS by 12:00 Hrs.

Rule 7.5 Settlement Default

7.5.1 Each Participant shall make arrangements with its Settlement Bank for the latter to inform CDS by 10:30 Hrs on any Business Day if the Participant fails to provide funds in its account for the settlement of its net settlement obligation for Futures Transactions in respect of the previous Business Day, in accordance with Rule 7.4.5.

7.5.2 In the event of a shortfall of funds in the account of a Participant with its Settlement Bank, CDS and the Bank of Mauritius shall postpone the transfer of funds to 14:00 Hrs on the same Business Day and Rules 7.5.3 to 7.5.7 shall apply.

7.5.3 CDS shall transfer the Open Positions in Securities Accounts relating to Futures registered with the defaulting Participant to the Guarantee Fund's Securities Account and use the Margin deposited by the defaulting Participant to make good for any shortfall of funds. If the Margin provided by the defaulting Participant is not sufficient for making good the shortfall, the standby line of credit of the Guarantee Fund and other resources available to the Guarantee Fund shall be used to make good for the shortfall. The standby line of credit shall be used to provide immediate liquidity and the other financial resources available to the Guarantee Fund shall be claimed in the following order:

- a) Defaulting Participant's Margin
- b) All other letters of credits provided to CDS by the defaulting Participant
- c) Defaulting participant's cash contribution to CDS
- d) Cash contributions made by CDS to the Guarantee Fund

If the shortfall of funds is higher than the total amount available under a) to d) above, CDS shall close the Open Positions relating to the excess, off-market by compulsorily reducing the opposite Open Positions in all Securities Accounts registered with all other Participants on a pro-rata basis.

7.5.4 CDS shall provide amended settlement instructions to the relevant Settlement Banks and the Bank of Mauritius by 13:00 Hrs.

7.5.5 CDS shall instruct the Settlement Bank of the Guarantee Fund to submit debit instruction relating to the shortfall of funds to the Bank of Mauritius by 13:30 Hrs.

7.5.6 The Bank of Mauritius shall transfer the funds among the accounts of the Settlement Banks by 14:00 Hrs and shall confirm the transfer of funds to CDS by 14:30 Hrs.

7.5.7 The CDS shall close the Open Positions in the Guarantee Fund's Securities Accounts on the next Business Day by submitting offsetting orders on the ATS through an Investment Dealer. After execution of the offsetting orders, the Trades will be marked to market and settled by the Guarantee Fund in accordance with Rule 7.4.

If the offsetting orders cannot be matched during the trading session due to lack of liquidity, the CDS shall close the Open Positions in the Guarantee Fund's Securities Accounts off-market by compulsorily reducing the opposite Open Positions in all Securities Accounts registered with all other Participants on a pro-rata basis as set out in Rule 7.5.10.

If the total amount available to the Guarantee Fund from the following sources:

- a) Defaulting Participant's Margin;
- b) All other letters of credits provided to CDS by the defaulting Participant;
- c) Defaulting participant's cash contribution to CDS; and
- d) Cash contributions made by CDS to the Guarantee Fund, is lower than any loss arising after marking to market the offsetting Trades, CDS shall close the Open Positions relating to the excess, off-market by compulsorily reducing the opposite Open Positions in all Securities Accounts registered with all other Participants on a pro-rata basis.

7.5.8 The defaulting Participant shall remain liable to CDS for all amount paid out of the Guarantee Fund, including expenses and any losses, for the settlement and closure of the Open Positions in Securities Accounts relating to Futures registered with the Participant. A penalty equal to 0.2% of amount of the shortfall shall be charged to the Participant. The Participant shall be suspended from using all the services of CDS and from trading on the SEM unless it makes good its obligations towards CDS.

7.5.9 The CDS shall forthwith inform FSC and SEM of any settlement default giving full details of the Participant and amount involved.

7.5.10 The number of opposite Open Positions to be closed compulsorily off-market in each Securities Account registered with the other Participants is equal to the ratio of the Open Position in that Securities Account to the total number of opposite Open Positions multiplied by the total number of Open Positions to be closed as a result of the default, rounded to the nearest whole number.

7.5.11 If a Participant's client fails to make payment to the Participant for any loss, the Participant shall use the Margin deposited by the client to settle the loss. The Participant may then close the Open Positions of the client by executing offsetting orders on the ATS. If the Participant is a Custodian Bank, it may instruct any Investment Dealer to execute the offsetting orders on the ATS to close the Open Positions of the client.

Rule 7.6 Adjustments for Corporate Actions

7.6.1 When there is a Corporate Action on an Underlying Security of a Futures Contract on a single Security, adjustments shall be made, if so required, to the Contract Size, the Reference Price of the Futures Contract and Open Positions, or a combination of these features, as set out in the rules of the SEM.

Rule 7.7 Expiry

7.7.1 The Expiry Date of a Futures Contract Series shall be as set out in the rules of the SEM. On the Expiry Date of a Futures Contract Series, CDS shall perform the last marking to market for the series and all open positions shall be closed after settlement on the next Business Day.
